Name of the Tool	Government information – United States at UC Santa Barbara Library
Home Page
Logo
URL	http://www.library.ucsb.edu/government-information-home
Subjects	Government Information – United States – Web Directories Electronic Government Information – United States - Directories
Accessibility	Free
Language	English
Publisher	UCSB Library

|
Scope and Coverage	The Government Information collection contains extensive collection of government documents. The UCSB Library collects publications from the governmental agencies of the United States, California, Santa Barbara City and County, foreign countries, international organizations, and the western states of the U.S. It covers………

- U.S. Government Documents
- California Documents
- Foreign & International Documents
- Local Government Documents
- Library Catalog
- Government Information Subject Guide

Kind of Information	The documents that are mentioned in the Scope and coverage area are discussed here to know the kind of information that can be accessed from here.

U.S. Government Documents: UCSB is a selective depository for U.S. Government publications. The Government Printing Office provides government information at no cost to designated depository libraries throughout the country. These libraries, in turn, provide local, no-fee access to government information in all formats in an impartial environment with professional assistance. Any member of the public may visit these depository libraries and use the Federal depository collections.

Most publications can be identified through the library catalog. Many recent U.S. government documents are now available online. It also has subject guides to assist users in locating specific types of government information:

- Library Catalog
- U.S. Government Information
- Presidential Documents
- Congressional Publications
- Law and Society
- Census Information
- Technical Reports
- Patents

Visitros can select a particular from here as shown in this picture.

California Documents: The UCSB Library has been a complete depository for California State publications since 1972 and a selective depository since the 1950s. The collection consists of publications covering a broad range of topics such as water quality, air pollution, bilingual education, AIDS, welfare, the budget, annual reports from California state agencies, legislative materials, statistical information, crime, and health issues.

Most publications can be identified through our library catalog or through our subject guides. Most recent California documents are now available online.

It also have subject guides to help users locate specific types of government information:

- Library Catalog
- Government Information (California)

Foreign International Documents: The UCSB Library actively collects documents published by many international governmental organizations such as the United Nations, World Bank, International Monetary Fund, Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, World Health Organization, and the European Communities. International publications can be located through the library catalog and subject guides. United Nations Documents are not individually cataloged, but are housed in a microfiche collection in the Government Information Center. Many recent publications are available online. It also collects major statistical publications from selected foreign countries. These can be located by using the library catalog. With the exception of microform documents, foreign government documents are housed in the main library collection.

Documents from international non-governmental organizations are cataloged and housed in the main library, or are available online.

- Library Catalog
- International Organizations
- Foreign Government Information

Local government Documents: The UCSB Library collects selective publications issued by local area government agencies. These include publications on topics such as planning, environmental impact reports (EIRs), land use, beach erosion, local county and city budgets, and statistical information. Most recent documents are available online.

Materials in the Local Documents Collection can be identified using the UCSB Library catalog. They are shelved on the 2nd floor (Mountainside) near the Paseo bridge. Many of these publications can be checked out.

- Library Catalog
- Government Information (Santa Barbara)

International Documents: The UCSB Library actively collects documents published by many international governmental organizations such as the United Nations, World Bank, International Monetary Fund, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, World Health Organization, and the European Communities. International publications can be located through the library catalog and subject guides. United Nations Documents are not individually cataloged, but are housed in a microfiche collection in the Government Information Center. Many recent publications are available online.

It also collects major statistical publications from selected foreign countries. These can be located by using the library catalog. With the exception of microform documents, foreign government documents are housed in the main library collection.

Documents from international non-governmental organizations are cataloged and housed in the main library, or are available online.

- Library Catalog
- International Organizations
- Foreign Government Information

Government Subject Guide: It is a portal to Government Information at UCSB Library. It gives access to any government information of United States, California govt. etc.

Special Features	❖ There are different types of information for undergraduates, faculty, staffs, and graduate students.

	❖ Links with University of California Santa Barbara.
Arrangement Pattern	Category wise arrangement is found.

> United States Government Documents
>
> California Documents
>
> Local Government Documents
>
> International Documents
>
> Government Subject Guide

Remarks	Use Interlibrary Loan to request a government document, or ask at the Reference/Information desk for assistance. Community patrons: Use this Interlibrary loan form to request a government document not owned by UCSB Library, but that is available in the University of California system.
Comparable Tools	➢ The United States Government Manual (http://www.usgovernmentmanual.gov/?AspxAutoDetectCookieSupport=1)
Date of Access	20th April, 2017